

Environmental Policy Statement

Molina believes that being good stewards of the public trust also includes being good stewards of the environment. Molina complies with all applicable environmental, health, and safety laws, regulations, and other requirements. Molina's commitment to environmentally responsible business practices and to working to lower our carbon footprint is part of our mission of improving the health and lives of our members and strengthening the communities we serve.

As part of our commitment to the environment and the fight against climate change:

We will measure, report, and seek to reduce our company's greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions over time.

We will reduce our GHG emissions by adopting a remote work model for nearly all employees and reducing our real estate footprint.

We will engage our suppliers in the move to more environmentally responsible practices.

We will continue to implement initiatives within our company to reduce, reuse, recycle, and re-think processes in ways that decrease our overall use of natural resources.
